Josh Moren

Josh has really impressed me by just doing the basic things really well. He comes to class every day, he completes the work that is assigned, he volunteers to participate in class and will agree to volunteer again if no one else will, he stays after class to socialize during lunch when we do sometimes, and he communicates with me well about his work- he emails or messages if he has a question and he asks an actual question not just "can you help me with everything?" And, he does these things even when his life has been turned upside down. I really appreciate Josh as a student and as a human.
