Steve Jobs Unit Overview

SUMMATIVE UNIT ASSESSMENTS

CULMINATING WRITING TASK¹

Determine a central idea of Jobs’s commencement address and explain how it is conveyed through particular details. (RI.6.6, RI.6.10) Determine a similar central idea of paragraphs 18-22 of “The Fringe Benefits of Failure, and the Importance of Imagination” by J.K. Rowling and explain how it is conveyed through particular details. (RI.6.6, RI.6.10) Write an essay that compares and contrasts how each central idea is introduced and elaborated in each speech, including examples and direct quotations. (RI.6.1, RI.6.2, RI.6.3, RI.6.9, W.6.2a-b, W.6.9b, W.6.10)

Teacher Note: Students should use appropriate transitions and precise language that clarify the relationships between the various ideas and provide a related conclusion. (W.6.2c, d, f; L.6.6) The writing should demonstrate command of proper grammar and usage, punctuation, spelling, and a variety of sentence patterns for meaning, interest, and maintaining a consistent style. (W.6.2e; L.6.1a, c, d; L.6.2a, b; L.6.3a, b) Use peer and teacher conferencing as well as small-group writing time to target student weaknesses in writing (e.g., using appropriate organization and style or correct grammar and punctuation). (W.6.4, W.6.5)

COLD-READ ASSESSMENT²

Read paragraphs 18-22 of “The Fringe Benefits of Failure, and the Importance of Imagination” by J.K. Rowling independently and then answer a combination of multiple-choice and constructed-response questions³ about the text and in comparison to Jobs’s commencement address, using evidence for all answers.

Sample questions:

- What is the purpose of this sentence in paragraph 18: “I had no idea then how far the tunnel extended, and for a long time, any light at the end of it was a hope rather than a reality”? How does another sentence within the passage serve a similar purpose? (RI.6.1, RI.6.5)
- Read these quotes from Jobs’s commencement address and “The Fringe Benefits of Failure, and the Importance of Imagination” and then compare the two images developed by each. Answer the questions that follow.

“It turned out that getting fired from Apple was the best thing that could have ever happened to me. The heaviness of success was replaced by the lightness of being a beginner again...” (Jobs)

“I was set free, because my greatest fear had been realised, and I was still alive, and I still had a daughter whom I adored, and I had an old typewriter and a big idea. And so rock bottom became the solid foundation on which I rebuilt my life.” (Rowling)

How do the speakers explain failure? (RI.6.3) What additional evidence from either speech supports these statements? (RI.6.8) What viewpoint or purpose do these quotations convey? (RI.6.6) How do these ideas contribute to the development of the central idea of each text? (RI.6.2, RI.6.5)

² Cold-Read Assessment: Students read a text or texts independently and answer a series of multiple-choice and constructed-response questions. While the text(s) relate to the unit focus, the text(s) have not been taught during the unit. Additional assessment guidance is available at <http://www.louisianabelieves.com/resources/classroom-support-toolbox/teacher-support-toolbox/end-of-year-assessments>.

³ Ensure that students have access to the complete texts as they are testing.

EXTENSION TASK⁴

Read excerpts from The Secret of Success Is Not a Secret: Stories of Famous People Who Persevered, Darcy Andries; “7 Entrepreneurs Whose Perseverance Will Inspire You,” Tom Zeleznock; and/or watch “Famous Failures.”

All of the figures addressed within these excerpts overcame a failure as Steve Jobs did. Choose one of the people listed and gather relevant information from several sources. Include first- and secondhand accounts and find information presented in different formats through library or Internet research, assessing the credibility of each source. (W.6.2b, W.6.7, W.6.8)

Possible texts for investigating: “No. 523: Edison’s Big Failure” (text and audio); “The Master’s Mistakes: Einstein Was Often Wrong, But Even His Errors Led to Deep Truths,” from DiscoverMagazine.com, Karen Wright; “Einstein’s 23 Biggest Mistakes” from DISCOVER Magazine; “How Failure Taught Edison to Repeatedly Innovate” from Forbes, Nathan Furr; “Thomas Alva Edison—The Failed Inventions”; “Lincoln’s ‘Failures’?” Abraham Lincoln Online

Create a two-part written report.

For part 1, write a research-based explanation of how the person you researched overcame failure to achieve success. Quote or paraphrase the conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and provide basic bibliographic information for sources. (RI.6.1, W.6.2a-f, W.6.8, W.6.9b, W.6.10, SL.6.2)

For part 2, emulate Jobs’s commencement address using various narrative techniques, such as dialogue, pacing, and description, to write an essay that explains how, in your own life, you have overcome a failure and turned it into a success. (W.6.3b) First, identify the primary message of your essay. Second, identify the strategies you will use to convey that central idea (using strategies similar to Jobs and Rowling). Third, write your essay, using relevant descriptive details. Establish a context, order events logically, and use appropriate transitions and precise words to convey ideas. (RI.6.1; W.6.3a, b, c, d, e; W.6.4)

Watch Jobs’s speech as a class and use a rubric to score Jobs’s performance and develop a list of characteristics of an effective speaker. (SL.6.2)

Create a speech from your written report, following the list of characteristics of an effective speaker developed as a class. (SL.6.4, SL.6.6) Include multimedia components (e.g., graphics, images, music, sound) and visual displays to enhance the presentation. (SL.6.5)

Teacher Note: The writing should use grade-appropriate words and phrases and demonstrate command of proper grammar, usage, punctuation, and spelling, including using pronouns correctly and a variety of sentence patterns for meaning, interest, and maintaining a consistent style. (W.6.4; W.6.5; L.6.1a, b, c, d; L.6.3a, b; L.6.6) Have students present their report and narrative essay to the class, sequencing ideas logically and using pertinent descriptions, facts, and details to accentuate main ideas or themes. (SL.6.4, SL.6.6)

⁴ Extension Task: Students connect and extend their knowledge learned through texts in the unit to engage in research or writing. The research extension task extends the concepts studied in the set so students can gain more information about concepts or topics that interest them. The writing extension task either connects several of the texts together or is a narrative task related to the unit focus.

INSTRUCTIONAL FRAMEWORK

In English language arts (ELA), students must learn to read, understand, and write and speak about grade-level texts independently. To do this, teachers must select appropriate texts and use those texts so students meet the standards, as demonstrated through ongoing assessments. To support students in developing independence with reading and communicating about complex texts, teachers should incorporate the following interconnected components into their instruction.

Click here⁵ to locate additional information about this interactive framework.

Whole-Class Instruction

This time is for grade-level instruction. Regardless of a student’s reading level, exposure to grade-level texts supports language and comprehension development necessary for continual reading growth. This plan presents sample whole-class tasks to represent how standards might be met at this grade level.

Small-Group Reading

This time is for supporting student needs that cannot be met during whole-class instruction. Teachers might provide:

1. intervention for students below grade level using texts at their reading level;
2. instruction for different learners using grade-level texts to support whole-class instruction;
3. extension for advanced readers using challenging texts.

Small-Group Writing

Most writing instruction is likely to occur during whole-class time. This time is for supporting student needs that cannot be met during whole-class instruction. Teachers might provide:

1. intervention for students below grade level;
2. instruction for different learners to support whole-class instruction and meet grade-level writing standards;
3. extension for advanced writers.

Independent Reading

This time is for increasing the volume and range of reading that cannot be achieved through other instruction but is necessary for student growth. Teachers can:

1. support growing reading ability by allowing students to read books at their reading level; and
2. encourage reading enjoyment and build reading stamina and perseverance by allowing students to select their own texts in addition to teacher-selected texts.

TEXT SEQUENCE AND SAMPLE WHOLE-CLASS TASKS

TEXT SEQUENCE	TEXT USE
LESSON 1:⁶ Stanford Commencement Address (2005), Steve Jobs	TEXT DESCRIPTION: Jobs’s commencement address has a clear beginning, middle, and end, like a story, but he makes a coherent argument through the order of his anecdotes. He clearly communicates a positive life focus while detailing less than successful events from his life in a style that connects specifically with his audience. TEXT FOCUS: Since this text will be read multiple times throughout the unit, focus each reading on a different purpose. Focus this first reading on summarizing the speech and then tracing the various hardships Jobs faced on his journey to success. Identify the way he introduces and elaborates upon each idea. (RL.6.2, RL.6.3) MODEL TASK SAMPLE TASK: Access a series of lessons⁷ that use Jobs’s speech as the central text and engage students in creating and supporting evidence-based claims.
LESSON 2: Stanford Commencement Address (2005), Steve Jobs “To Failure,” Philip Larkin “Mother to Son,” Langston Hughes	TEXT DESCRIPTION: “To Failure” by Philip Larkin uses imagery and a negative tone to communicate the strong feelings of suffering due to failure. “Mother to Son” by Langston Hughes reiterates the concept of perseverance, as does Jobs’s speech. The poem conveys the reality of life—failure is a part of success. TEXT FOCUS: Both poems (“To Failure” and “Mother to Son”) provide descriptions of setbacks and hardships, which Jobs describes as something he learned to overcome. (RL.6.9) Focusing on the lessons Jobs learned as he faced hardships on his journey to success, compare these poems to the anchor text and discuss how the three different texts explain what it takes to be successful. (RL.6.2, RL.6.6, RI.6.2, RI.6.5) MODEL TASKS LESSON OVERVIEW: Students read “To Failure” and Jobs’s commencement address independently. As a class, read aloud “Mother to Son.” Students identify and define key vocabulary of each text. Students identify each key moment in Jobs’s story and discuss the impact. Students analyze “To Failure” and “Mother to Son.” Students end with a discussion and a written reflection comparing the lessons of each text. READ THE TEXT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Have students read “To Failure” and reread Jobs’s “second story” about love and loss independently. Then read aloud “Mother to Son” as students follow along.

⁶ Note: One lesson does not equal one day. Teachers should determine how long to take on a given lesson. This will depend on each unique class.

(L.6.4b, c; L.6.5b, c) Continue this throughout the unit to support students in acquiring vocabulary through texts to use in their writing. The article attributes success to being a learner with a “growth mindset” rather than a nonlearner with a “fixed mindset.” “Overcoming Obstacles” argues that failure is critical in achieving success and goes further to suggest that what inhibits success can often be attributed to the fear of failure. TEXT FOCUS: These texts correlate to Jobs’s speech because he explains how it took courage for him to fail in order to become successful. Students should continue to analyze and evaluate the argument presented by the author to determine the central idea and author’s purpose, including a summary of how each section of the text develops the central idea. (RI.6.1, RI.6.2, RI.6.3, RI.6.6, RI.6.8) This text is recommended for reading in pairs. Students can then independently reread and focus their analysis on particular sections to build understanding of the entire text over the course of multiple readings. (RI.6.10)
LESSON 5: “The Story of David and Goliath,” 1 Samuel 17, the Bible “Casey at the Bat,” Ernest Lawrence Thayer	TEXT DESCRIPTION: “Casey at the Bat” presents the dangers of arrogance and assuming one is immune to failure. “The Story of David and Goliath” is about an underdog overcoming odds against someone who he assumed was infallible. TEXT FOCUS: “Casey at the Bat” sets the reader up to anticipate one outcome and then delivers the opposite outcome. Students should consider how Casey’s point of view as the events unfold in the poem contribute to the narrative. (RL.6.3, RL.6.6) This poem also helps students consider the consequences of arrogance as they continue to explore what it takes to be successful. Similarly, Goliath assumes he is the greatest until he is beaten by David. (RL.6.2, RL.6.3, RL.6.4, L.6.5a) Both texts engage readers in examining their own preconceived notions about success and failure. (RL.6.9) Both texts should be read independently prior to engaging in discussion or collaborative group work. LESSON 6: Stanford Commencement Address (2005), Steve Jobs “What It Takes to Be Great” from FORTUNE Magazine, Geoffrey Colvin	TEXT FOCUS: These are previously read texts. Rereading them here allows students to compare and contrast the two depictions of success. Have students evaluate whether Jobs’s advice reflects “what it takes to be great.” MODEL TASKS LESSON OVERVIEW: Students reread the texts independently. Students analyze the language of the texts to understand the way each author builds his argument. Students conclude by writing a response to a key lesson Jobs conveys through his speech, and then present their analysis to the class. READ THE TEXTS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Have students reread these texts independently. (RI.6.10) Select three or four words from “What It Takes to Be Great,” such as zenith, deliberate, intangibles, prodigies, deciphering, and sporadically, and have students define the words in context and verify the meanings with a partner. (RI.6.4; L.6.4a, d) Then analyze the words through semantic mapping²¹ (i.e., verify their part of speech, identify how Greek or Latin affixes and roots provide clues to the words’ meaning, and recognize the relationship between the words and their associations). (L.6.4b, c; L.6.5b, c) Prompt students to reread specific sentences or paragraphs and take note of what appeals to their interest. Work with students to categorize those stylistic features to consider using them in their own writing. (L.6.3a, b) Possible examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Variety in sentence lengths and types (fluency): “It wasn’t all romantic. I didn’t have a dorm room, so I slept on the floor in friends’ rooms, I returned coke bottles for the 5¢ deposits to buy food with, and I would walk the 7 miles across town every Sunday night to get one good meal a week at the Hare Krishna temple. I loved it. And much of what I stumbled into by following my curiosity and intuition turned out to

What made Berkshire Hathaway Chairman Warren Buffett the world’s premier investor?” (Geoffrey Colvin) ○ Exaggeration: “It’s a one-in-a-million thing.” (Geoffrey Colvin) ○ Addressing the audience (point of view and asides): “You’ve got it—or you don’t. Well, folks, it’s not so simple. For one thing, you do not possess a natural gift for a certain job, because targeted natural gifts don’t exist. (Sorry, Warren.) You are not a born CEO or investor or chess grandmaster. You will achieve greatness only through an enormous amount of hard work over many years...” (Geoffrey Colvin) UNDERSTAND THE TEXTS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Have students reflect on what they read in “What It Takes to Be Great” by teaming with a partner to complete a graphic organizer (e.g., nonfiction pyramid,²² super six,²³). Pair with another pair (to form a group of four) and compare graphic organizers. Each pair takes a turn presenting their organizer as the other pair reviews their own organizer, adding relevant details and removing any irrelevant or inaccurate information. Students should draw evidence from each text and create notes for the questioning and writing assignments that follow. (W.6.5, W.6.9a-b, SL.6.1a-b) • Take a deeper look at both “What It Takes to Be Great” and Jobs’s Stanford commencement address. Focus students on a specific section of both texts and have them provide questions about that section. (SL.6.1c) For example: In the first section of the text, why does Jobs say, “You have to trust in something—your gut, destiny, life, karma, whatever. This approach has never let me down, and it has made all the difference in my life.” Why does Jobs tell three stories? What does Jobs mean when he says, “Death is very likely the single best invention of life,” or “What is an idea that each article shares”? Note: If students are asking questions only focused on recall, have a few questions already prepared as models. Do not answer the questions and do not allow students to answer the questions—only ask questions. If students attempt to offer answers or make statements, prompt students to turn them into questions. (SL.6.1b) Record all the questions for the class to see. After gathering 15-20 questions, review the questions as a class, develop categories, and sort the questions according to their characteristics. Divide the class into collaborative groups and have each group take a category and use the texts to answer the questions. EXPRESS UNDERSTANDING:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Conclude the lesson by having students write a short response to the following question: Jobs’s closing advice is “Stay hungry. Stay foolish.” How does he convey that advice throughout the speech? Support your analysis with clear reasons and relevant evidence from the text. (RI.6.1; RI.6.3; RI.6.5; W.6.1a, b; W.6.9b; W.6.10) • Provide students with an answer frame²⁴ to support their writing. Students must demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage by using pronouns effectively. (L.6.1a, L.6.1b, L.6.1c, L.6.1d) To improve student writing, use mentor texts and student models²⁵ as a whole class and in small-group writing focused around areas of student writing weakness. Present a model that is strong in the targeted area and discuss its strengths based on a writing rubric.²⁶ Then present a model that is weak in the targeted area and have students suggest revisions based on the writing rubric. For example, if students are struggling using words, phrases, and clauses to clarify the relationships among claims, use excerpts from Jobs’s commencement address and “What It Takes to be Great” as mentor texts. Analyze how each author transitions between ideas, connects sentences and paragraphs, and develops sentence fluency.²⁷ (W.6.1c, W.6.1d, W.6.4, W.6.5, L.6.3a, L.6.6)
