Looking Ahead

The CCS Social Studies Curriculum Quarterly provides a preview of upcoming content. Articles highlight the units, standards, TCI lessons and other resources for each core social studies class, and outline some effective instructional strategies for all courses.

Response Group Strategy

TCI's Response Group activities are a way to sidestep the problems inherent in class discussion. Students first work in small groups with thought-provoking resources—viewing compelling images, reading primary sources, or listening to music—and then discuss related critical thinking questions among themselves.

Response Group (RG) activities are incorporated in several TCI lessons throughout Quarter 2.

Steps at a Glance

- 1 Challenge students to discuss controversial and complex issues in small groups.
- 2 Create heterogeneous groups and a suitable classroom arrangement.
- 3 Prepare students to answer provocative critical thinking questions.
- 4 Allow groups time to prepare their responses.
- 5 Facilitate a lively class discussion.

Social Studies Skill Builder Strategy

In the TCI Social Studies Skill Builder strategy, students work in pairs on skill-oriented tasks such as mapping, graphing, identifying perspective, and interpreting political cartoons.

Social Studies Skill Builder (SSSB) activities are incorporated in several TCI lessons throughout Quarter 2.

Steps at a Glance

- 1 Use engaging tasks to teach social studies skills.
- 2 Teach the skill through modeling and guided practice.
- 3 Prepare students to work in pairs.
- 4 Set clear expectations, allow students to practice the skill repeatedly, and give immediate feedback.
- 5 Debrief the lesson to help students make connections to key social studies concepts.

Social Studies 6, Regions of the Eastern Hemisphere

Use History Alive! The Ancient World as students begin digging into early civilizations in Egypt, Mesopotamia, India, and China. But before they do that, students will learn about types of government and how to use sources effectively.

Learning Targets for Quarter 2

- 10a. Describe the relationship between those in power and individual citizens in a democracy, dictatorship, monarchy, and theocracy.
- 10b. Explain that the characteristics of governments often overlap and can misrepresent the actual relationship between those governing and those being governed.
- 1. Analyze multiple-tier timelines to identify cause and effect relationships, patterns, or themes among events.
- 2a. Compare the six cultural practices and products of the early civilizations in India, Egypt, China and Mesopotamia.
- 2b. Identify the enduring influences of the six cultural practices and products on cultures today.

TCI Lessons for Quarter 2

Social Studies 7, Ancient and Medieval World

Grade 7 students continue their study of classical civilizations as they investigate the transformation from Roman republic to Roman empire, then learn about the fall of Rome. In Units 3 and 4, students begin their investigation of the Medieval World with lessons on Medieval Europe and Islam. Unit 3 also begins the transition to the History Alive! Medieval World and Beyond hard copy textbook, which is already included in the custom digital program.

Learning Targets for Quarter 2

- 2. Cite examples and explain the enduring impact that Ancient Rome had on later civilizations.
- 13. Describe how geographic factors can promote or impede the movement of people, products and ideas.
- 14. Explain how trade routes connecting Africa, Europe and Asia fostered the spread of ideas, technology and major world religions.
- 3. Describe how internal and external factors helped to break up the Roman Empire and set the stage for the development of feudal and manorial systems.
- 5. Describe achievements by the Islamic civilization and how these achievements were introduced into Western Europe.
- 18. Explain how the decline of feudalism in Western Europe and consolidation of power resulted in the emergence of nation states.
